

Associate Mental Health Therapist Job Description

Description

EMERGE is seeking an Associate Mental Health Therapist to provide psychotherapy and other activities that support the social and emotional growth of adolescents and young adults. Candidates must have a relevant Master's degree and be passionate about working with young people.

Roles and Responsibilities

- Provide individual, family and/or group psychotherapy to adolescents and young adults
- Provide therapy to other age groups to be determined (children or adults)
- Provide timely communication and follow up with clients by phone, email or text
- Participate in 2-3 hours of supervision per week, starting from hire date
- Maintain appropriate clinical records and documentation in a timely and professional manner
- Collaborate and communicate with other therapists and community providers

Minimum Requirements

- Master's degree in social work, counseling or psychology
- Associate application with the California BBS as an ASW, AMFT or LPCC
- Some experience working with adolescents and/or young adults
- Excellent communication skills with clients, co-workers and supervisors
- Responsible and dedicated to timely work completion
- Collaboratively minded and team-oriented
- Committed to personal and professional growth

Salary

- Commission at 45% of collected fees, based on completion of all responsibilities
- Training stipend after one year
- Additional, non-client work may be contracted at a rate to be determined
- Associate is paid as a W2 employee
- There are no benefits currently offered

Hours

- Flexible schedule, but must include some afternoon, evening or weekend hours
- Work is primarily in our office in Davis, CA

At EMERGE, we specialize in providing high-quality psychological services designed specifically for teens, young adults and families. Founded in 2017, we utilize a diverse range of therapeutic strategies but emphasize a relational, youth-friendly and family-centered approach.

Committed to being neuro-affirming, LGBTQ+ inclusive, and equity-driven, we aspire to create a world where young people are offered the resources they need to become healthy, happy and resilient.

APPLY TO EMERGE IF YOU:

- Want to work with mission-driven colleagues who enjoy working with young people
- Strive for a high level of clinical excellence and innovation
- Enjoy learning with others and working creatively and collaboratively
- Are in a continual process of personal growth and transformation

To Apply

Send resume and cover letter to Lawrence Shweky, LCSW, Director at Lawrence@emerge-etc.com.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion

EMERGE embraces the inherent value of diversity, equity and inclusion in our clinical approach, in our hiring and in our lives. We welcome and encourage applicants from all orientations, genders, colors, sizes, abilities, religions, cultures, family configurations and political beliefs.

e·merge

/ə'mərj/

verb

to come forth, to be known, to break free

www.emerge-etc.com

1621 Oak Avenue, Suite B, Davis, CA 95616